

Teaching and Learning English in Thailand in the New Era

Pisith Jittisukpong

Abstract

The main purpose of this article is to give an overview of English language teaching and leaning in Thailand. Firstly, the role of English and some of the problems involved in teaching and learning of English are discussed. This is followed by touching on the subject of education reform which is related to English language teaching. Finally, it will state what has been planned or already done to improve the English language teaching and leaning situation in Thailand.